

Palmer

Edition No. 1-11

Palmer is intrepid and stately, with a feeling of being shaped directly from its stone block. Subtle ridges animate the surface with shifting shadows, while accents of metal serve as the connectivity between stone elements. The profile steps down from wall to room, thick to thin, creating depth and dynamism. Anchored by an integrated hearth, Palmer recalls both architectural rigor and honest expression. The Palmer is also available in Alto when a room calls for a more dramatic expression.

Patent pending.
